Gala Greeting Awaits Knowland

CALIFORNIA'S Senator, William F. Knowland will be the object of a welcome in a "grand manner" when he arrives at Brigham Young University Thursday.

The Republican statesman will be greeted at the Provo airport by BYU's California Club Tuesday morning. From the airport a car parade will bring the senator through Provo to the Smith Fieldhouse where he will address the studentbody.

According to Howard Hill, California Club President from San Mateo, a marching band, composed of California students will greet Senator Knowland at the fieldhouse. The building will also be decorated with posters and state flags.

California students will sit in a body in the same section of the fieldhouse they occupied during the welcome assembly, said Hill.

KNOWLAND is the senior senator from California who backed Vice-President Nixon for his nomination in 1952. He is expected to campaign at BYU for Republican candidates entered in the November national election.

Mrs Knowland and their 18-year-old daughter will accompany the senator on this trip. They are flying to Provo from Grand Island, Neb., and will go from here to their only other Utah stop at Ogden.

Policy Review Seen In Leader's Address

Queens, major policies, and student organizations will be reviewed before the Brigham Young University Student Senate Wednesday afternoon.

Studentbody President Monroe McKay announced that he will deliver his State of the Union address to the student legislative body at 4:10 p.m. Wednesday in 167 McKay Bldg.

McKay said he will announce the executive council's major policies for the year. He also asked that all student organizations send a representative as organizations problems will be discussed.

It is believed that McKay will request a review of queen policy at BYU. The request will probably carry a recommendation that the number of queen elections be reduced.

The entire studentbody is invited and encouraged to attend the special Senate meeting.

Alumni Donate $21 Thousand

The Brigham Young University Fund has received $21,775 with a total of $21,772.75 donated by BYU alumni.

The fund was instigated for the purpose of improving BYU through the voluntary financial aid of alumni and friends.

In response to the appeal there were 2,642 contributors. Money came from 43 states, Alaska, Hawaii, The Canal Zone and 13 foreign countries.

The University will benefit with money for additional facilities, equipment, scolarships and library books, according to alumni association officials.

President Said 'Good', Off Oxygen, Sitting Up

Brigham Young University President Ernest L. Wilkinson was reported in "good" condition Monday by doctors at Salt Lake City's Latter-day Saints Hospital.

It was also reported that Pres. Wilkinson was allowed to sit up in bed Monday for the first time since he was hospitalized Oct. 5.

Use of an oxygen tent for the ailing university president was discontinued Monday.

Youtheatre Troupe Presents Drama 'Snow Treasure'

"SNOW TREASURE," a play in three acts adapted from the Mary McSwigan story will be presented in College Hall Wednesday to Friday. Two performances will be held each day, a matinee at 2 p.m. and a night show at 7 p.m. No admission will be charged. This is the first play to be offered this year under a new program called Youtheatre.

YOUTHEATRE is an offering of the Department of Speech and Dramatic Art, with the cooperation of the Brigham Young University Laboratory School.

In charge of the program will be Dr. Albert G. Mitchell, formerly director of the Young People's Theatre at the University of Utah. Assisted with Mr Mitchell will be Max Golightly, who recently returned from teaching in California.

In offering such a program to the schools, BYU feels it should develop into a joint project guided by school officials to meet the needs of secondary as well as elementary students. Participants in the different plays by the Youtheatre include BYU, BY High and elementary students.

THE DOCTOR KNOWS BEST—"Snow Treasure," a three act play presented by the newly formed Youtheatre stars BYU, BY High and Grammar students.

Male Laziness Prompts Soph Assembly Theme

"Midnight Mood" will be the theme of the student assembly presented Tuesday by the Sophomore Loan Fund committee.

The comedy show centers around a marriage broker who is going out of business because lazy men won't take the initiative in asking girls to marry them.

Script was written by Connie Lundell, Vernal Ad.. Cast includes Steve Leveel, Los Angeles, Calif.; Christine Ellsworth, Pasadena, Calif.; Byron Todd, Los Angeles; Margaret Holman, Pocatello, Ida.; Lilley Alder, Weiser, Ida.; Leo Weidner, Portland, Ore.; Bob Brady, Ithaca, N. Y.; Dick Reimers, Arcadia, Calif.; and Mark Poulson, Jones, Chandler, Ariz. is chairman and director of the show.

Homecoming House Decoration Entry Due Date Slated Oct. 30

Homecoming house and dormitory decoration entries must be submitted by Oct 30 for consideration in judging.

Displays will be judged Nov. 1 for originality, workmanship, adherence to theme, beauty and interest according to Boyd Cook, house and dormitory decorations chairman.

Information sheets and entry blanks may be obtained in the student co-ordinators office in the Student Service Center.

All types of residences and dorms on or off campus are eligible for trophies to be given at the Fieldhouse Frolics Nov. 2. All trophies are permanent except the sweepstakes trophy.

Three awards will be given for on-campus units and one will be given for off-campus displays.

The Alumni House Decorations Traveling Sweepstakes Trophy will be awarded to the best all-around display.

Last year's and this year's trophies will be displayed in the Eyring Science Center lobby where information about the contest may be obtained.

According to, "Remember When . . . ," the homecoming theme, will help entrants create humor, nostalgia, beauty and originality with their workmanship which will be appreciated by guests, the school and the community.

Spanish Testimony Meet Planned Sunday at BYU

A special testimony meeting in Spanish is scheduled for Sunday at 3 p.m. in the Smith Building Banquet Hall.

Ex-missionaries of Spanish speaking countries, students taking Spanish and natives of Spanish-speaking countries are especially requested to attend. Anyone else interested is also welcome.

Bishop Ernst J. Wilkins will direct the meeting.

BYU Professor Elected Officer In Region Unit

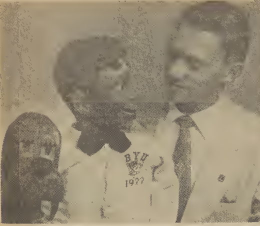
Dr. Edward L. Hart of the Brigham Young University English Department has been elected vice president of the Rocky Mountain Modern Language Association.

Twelve members of the BYU English Department attended the annual conference of the RMMLA Oct. 19-20 in Missoula, Mont.

Dr. Hart will automatically become president of this organization in one year, when the conference will be held on the BYU campus.

At the Montana meet John E. McKendrick, of the BYU English Department was chairman of one section, and Dr. Hart presented a paper on Shakespeare.

Those attending the conference from BYU included Dr. Samuell Monson, Homer Statham, McKendrick, Dr. Hart, Dr. Leonard Rice, Marshall Craig, Dale Bailey, Lyman Smart, Dr. Dean B. Farnsworth, Dr. Bruce B. Clark, Lucille Peterson and Olive Birmingham.



WHO PULLS THE STRINGS—Roy Baumgart talks over the world situation with his business partner, a ventriloquist's dummy named Lucky. Rin Tin Can is the other prop for the act put on by Baumgart.

Repair of Dummy Gives Start To Fun and Unusual Hobby

A BRIGHAM YOUNG University student who bothered to repair a broken ventriloquist dummy thrown in a trash can, is now on his way to an unusual hobby and possibly a career.

Roy Baumgart, the student, put the doll back together, named his find Lucky and decided to learn ventriloquism.

Since then, seven years ago, he has made appearances on television in Salt Lake City, toured the eastern part of the United States and Utah and Idaho.

Originally from New York City, Roy came to BYU a year ago, and is now starting his sophomore year.

IN ADDITION to Lucky, which now has been replaced with a professional-made model, Roy uses a balsa wood and paper mache dog, Rin Tin Can, which he carved by hand.

"Lucky is my smart-alecky side kick. The dog doesn't do much right now except sing one song with Lucky," Roy said.

Before he had Rin Tin Can, about two years ago, Roy and Lucky decided to take ventriloquism lessons, but according to Lucky they both knew so much it was a waste of time.

"I have read a few books on the subject when I started, and they covered what I wanted to know," Roy broke in. "Lucky just came by his intelligence ten to change pitches. The audience got a big laugh out of it," naturally."

DOES ROY ever get mixed up and speak in his own voice when he should be listening to Lucky?

"Only once," Roy replied. "That was in Springville when BYU's Student Program Bureau sent me along with one of their programs. Lucky was supposed to be talking to me, and there I was, listening to my own voice, instead of Lucky's. I had forgot-he said.

Roy is majoring in Speech and Radio and Television Production. He doesn't expect to use ventriloquism after he graduates, but he did indicate that if the opportunity shows itself, he would like to continue the hobby and make a profession out of it.

Publicity Directors For All Clubs Requested by IOC

Publicity for various organizations belonging to Inter Organizational Council will be handled through a central publicity committee.

This committee, directed by Phil Koldweyn, IOC Publicity Director, will serve to increase the amount and quality of publicity of all campus organizations.

A member elected from each of the groups, social, religious, honorary, service, geographical and departmental, make up the central committee.

These representatives handle the publicity problems and coordination of their particular group. They aid in providing more and better publicity facilities and insure that all connected with publicity in the various groups will understand hte publicity committee rulings.

Each unit elects a publicity representative to work with the central committee in preparing any publicity for his unit.

Members of the central publicity committee are Elaine Peterson, Portland, Ore., social units; Franklin Nielson, St. Johns, Ariz., religious units; Loren Crane, Las Vegas, Nev., service units; Joyce Martin, Preston, Ida. and LuRae Fawson, Salt Lake City, geographicals and Helen Harley, Los Angeles, Calif., depratmental clubs. Honorary units have not elected a member at the present.

Koldweyn requested that any organizations who did not have a publicity representative at the last IOC meeting appoint a representative to see him at the IOC office between 4 and 5 p. m Monday through Friday

MASK CLUB PERFORMANCE—Mask club member participate in one of the club's presentations. Each play will be staged Monday and presentations will continue each week of the quarter. Members will do an average of two plays a week.

YU Mask Club Founded in '23

or Theater, Drama Enthusiasts

(Ed. Note: This article is third in a series featuring Brigham Young University departmental and service organizations.)

Mask Club, founded by Dr. Earl Pardoe in 1923, is one of the oldest organizations on campus.

It is named because of its connection with theater arts, the play is open to anyone interested in drama and the theater.

Meeting every Monday from 7-8 p.m. in College Hall, it not only offers entertainment and enjoyment for those students who like to watch performances, but it also gives an opportunity to participate.

One-act plays will be directed by Dr. Preston Gledhill's directing class. Mask Club participants who act in these plays gain valuable experience in developing their talent in this particular field.

Aside from the fun of taking part in the one-act performances, Dr. Gledhill commented that it gives students a chance to become well-known dramatically and gives experience so that one may try out for major productions.

The first performance is scheduled Monday. Plays will run from that date to the end of the quarter, and an average of two plays per week will be given.

Some of the future one-act plays will be "Riders to the Sea," "The Valiant," "The Rope," "Modesty," "Will O' the Wisp" and "Saturday Night at the Halfway House."

The different plays are cast after Mask Club meeting each week.

Officers for Mask Club are Carl Markworth, National City, Calif. president; Dorothy Whitesides, Centerville, vice president; Martha Adams, Montpelier, Ida., secretary.

Cougar Soccer Team Defeated By Alemania 6-3 In Saturday Game

The Brigham Young International Soccer Club started its season on the wrong foot as Alemania, of the Utah Soccer Association, defeated the Brighams 6-3 at Provo Saturday afternoon.

Alemania, a German entry in the Salt Lake City league, jumped off to a 3-0 halftime lead and scored three more goals in the second half to put the game on ice.

BYISC outplayed the German squad offensively in the second half, as they scored three goals. However, the Brighams defense wasn't up to par, as Alemania kickers had little trouble in front of the BYISC's goal.

HEINZ HORSTMEIER, Peter Lysenko and Pete Peterson scored the three Cougar goals.

The Brigham Young eleven started fast in the second half as Horstmeier kicked BYU's first goal within five minutes of play.

Lysenko, who played goal keeper the first half, shifted to center halfback in the second half and scored the BYISC's second goal. A sensational pass by Horstmeier set up Lysenko's goal.

With 15 minutes left in the game, Peterson added the final Cougar tally.

Brigham Young's offensive positions were weak in first half play, and the BYISC had to revise its line-up first half play and in the second half to get offensive power. The main moves of the re-shuffle was moving Lysenko and Horstmeier into offensive positions

GLENN CHEE-A-KWAI was the outstanding Cougar on defense, playing at left inside in the first half, and at left full back in the second half.

Cowboys Move To Top League Slot Over Utah

by Jerry Cunningham

MOST OBSERVERS figure the Skyline circuit's game of the year was played Saturday in Laramie, Wyo. when Jim Crawford & Co. spanked Utah 20-20.

The game was rated a "toss-up" by most football "prophets" with the losers being "tossed out" of contention almost by acclamation.

So if Utah is to get a crack at the crown, they will have to stop Wyoming. Only Utah State, Montana and Brigham Young University are left.

BUT THE high-flying Pokes are on the road for the remainder of their conference games and Saturday's game results indicate that "there's power in Logan."

Utah State, with the reserves taking over in the second half, clobbered Colorado A. & M. 46-7 Saturday. And, they did it with Jack Hill, the Aggie All-American candidate, doing little more than scampering for a 42-yard touchdown and kicking 3 of 4 extra-point attempts.

BUT WYOMING may have the Skyline's greatest back in Jim Crawford. Many observers are already comparing him with such all-time Wyoming greats as Eddie Talboom, Harry Geldein and Chuck Spaulding. In Saturday's contest Crawford racked up 146 yards in single-handed, or well over half of the Pokes' total offensive yardage.

OTHER GAMES around the league found New Mexico bowling to Arizona 12-26, Denver romping over Colorado College by three touchdowns and Montana nipping BYU 21-14.

Next week finds Wyoming and Utah stepping out of league play to entertain Utah State and Idaho respectively. BYU goes to Utah State, New Mexico is at Denver and Colorado's Aggies host Montana.

AN UNRELATED Air Force Academy, while not in the Skyline Conference, has been making a shambles of Rocky Mountain competition. The Academy boasts a gaudy 40-points bulge over their opponents. They host BYU Nov. 24 in Denver which will be the Cougar's football finale.
